On May 29, 2014, Puerto Rican communities across the Diaspora demonstrated in support of Oscar López Rivera's freedom. Actions included a bike ride to the institutions he helped found, the naming of an affordable housing complex in his honor, and the presentation of 1,000 signatures calling for his release.

La Respuesta has covered these campaigns diligently since our premier last year. Below is our special photographic coverage of these demonstrations in Chicago, Cleveland, and New York City.
